Due to a major flood crisis, Rowdy Girl Sanctuary, a 501(c)(3) organization in Angleton, Texas, has an urgent need for donations. The recent Brazos River flood has taken over our sanctuary and all of our animals have been evacuated and relocated to safe locations. The water level has decreased and damages are proving to be devastating. There is much cleanup and rebuilding to be done, and caring for the animals off site is very costly. Please consider making a donation to Rowdy Girl Sanctuary in our time of great need. Any amount would be so appreciated.

Visit www.rowdygirlsanctuary.org and click DONATE NOW

This is an aerial view of part of Rowdy Girl Sanctuary after being inundated by Brazos River flood waters. Although the road to recovery is long, we know we will succeed. Especially with your help. Please make a donation to Rowdy Girl Sanctuary and help us care for our beloved animals and restore the sanctuary grounds.