

DOCUMENTARY

ROWDY GIRL: THE STORY OF A TEXAS CATTLE RANCHER WHO WENT VEGAN

Renee's journey from Texas cattle rancher to vegan animal rights activist, is the subject of a new documentary, Rowdy Girl: The Story of a Texas Cattle Rancher Who Went Vegan. Since its world premiere at the Hot Docs Film Festival in Toronto, Rowdy Girl has been showcased at numerous festivals across the US, and internationally in South Korea, Brazil, Ukraine and Estonia. Last spring, the film had a successful theatrical launch, drawing packed audiences in New York and Los Angeles, followed by a nationwide tour of art house cinemas. The film is currently being distributed to libraries and universities across the US, with community screenings to follow. Canada, Spain, and Japan have showed initial interest for national broadcasts, and the film will be translated into Spanish and French in spring 2025.

RECOGNITION

FILM WEBSITE

rowdygirlfilm.com

